By mutual agreement, of the Incline Village General Improvement District & Operating Engineers, the Employee may work a different schedule provided the total hours shall not exceed forty (40) hours in any scheduled work week. 4.8 If an Employee is required to return to work outside his regularly scheduled work period, Employee shall be paid for a minimum of two (2) hours. If there is such a requirement more than once in any eight consecutive hours, only the first such "call-out" shall be for the minimum of two hours; all others shall be at the actual time required. All such time shall be paid at one and one-half (1-1/2) times the regular hourly rate of the Employee. Employees who have been laid off will be rehired in the reverse order of layoff (i.e., last laid off, first rehired).

8.2 Employees in higher classifications within the bargaining unit will be given the opportunity to demote to lower classifications within the bargaining unit for which they are qualified, recognizing the fact that this could result in the layoff of Employees in lower classes because of less seniority.

8.3 An Employee who has been laid off has the right to re-employment for a period of one hundred and eighty (180) days, provided he has the necessary qualifications for the position to be filled.

11.1 The purpose of this article is to provide for an equitable and expeditious manner for the resolution of disputes arising from the imposition of discipline. The Employer and the Union acknowledge that all steps of the mutually-agreed-upon "Peer Counseling and Disciplinary Process" as outlined in Exhibit D shall be recognized as defined steps in a progressive disciplinary process. It is further acknowledged that feedback received during an annual performance evaluation may supplement the referenced Peer Counseling and Disciplinary Process. All actions beyond Step 1 in the referenced process shall be documented by the Employer and shall become part of the permanent personnel record.

11.2 Any Employee involved in a discussion with their supervisor or management, who has reason to believe that discipline may result from said discussion, shall have the right to request Employee's Steward or Union Representative be present during the discussion. If the Employee wishes to have Union representation during such discussions, it shall be Employee's responsibility to make such wishes known and the Employer shall make arrangements for the desired representation.

The Employer agrees that no Employee will be disciplined or discharged without cause.

Such leave shall be without prejudice to the Employee. If the department head determines, based upon the evidence presented at the hearing, that the appropriate disciplinary action involves a demotion or a suspension of a shorter period of time than the leave of absence, then the Employer shall provide back pay to the Employee for the difference at the end of the same pay period. If the department head determines, based upon the evidence presented at the hearing, that the appropriate disciplinary action involves a suspension of a greater period of time than the leave of absence, or a discharge, then no back pay shall be due and, in the event of a suspension, the beginning date of the suspension shall be the same as the beginning date of the leave of absence.

11.6 Upon receiving the department head's written decision, an Employee who has been suspended, involuntarily demoted or discharged, shall have the right to appeal such decision through the Grievance and Arbitration Procedure of this Agreement, beginning at Step 4.

The aggrieved Employee shall have the assurance that filing of a grievance will not result in reprisal of any nature. The aggrieved Employee shall have the right to be represented or accompanied by a Representative of the Union at all stages of the grievance procedure.

12.3 Certain time limits in the grievance procedure are designed to quickly settle a grievance. It is realized, however, that on occasion the parties concerned may be unable to comply with the established limitations. In such instances, the limitations may be extended upon the mutual agreement of all parties concerned.

12.4 Failure of the aggrieved Employee to file an appeal within the prescribed time limit for any step of the procedure shall constitute abandonment of the grievance. Employer shall abide by prescribed time limits.

12.5 Any person responsible for conducting any conference, meeting or hearing under the formal grievance procedure shall give due and timely notice to all persons concerned.

12.6 When two or more Employees experience a common grievance, they may initiate a single grievance proceeding. The initial hearing of the grievance shall be by the immediate Supervisor, Superior or department head who has the prime responsibility for all of the aggrieved Employees.

This request must be made in writing within five (5) working days of the receipt of the Supervisor's decision. The department head will hear the grievance and give their written decision within ten (10) working days of the receipt of the formal grievance papers.

Step 4. If the written decision of the department head is unsatisfactory to the Employee, the Employee may request that the grievance be presented to the General Manager for review. This request must be made in writing within five (5) working days of the receipt of the Department Head's decision. The General Manager will hear the grievance and give their written decision within ten (10) working days of the receipt of the formal grievance papers.

Step 5. If the written decision of the General Manager is unsatisfactory to the Employee, the Union or Employee within ten (10) working days may request the grievance be advanced to arbitration. The arbitrator list will be requested within one-hundred twenty (120) days and the arbitrator from a list of seven (7) names supplied by the Federal Mediation and Conciliatory Service (FMCS), or another arbitration service mutually agreeable to the Employer and Union. The parties shall select the arbitrator by alternately striking names until one name remains. The Union representative shall strike the first name. The decision of the arbitrator shall be final and binding upon both parties.

12.8 The arbitrator shall have no authority to alter, amend, add to or subtract in any way the terms and conditions of this Agreement. ## PEER COUNSELING AND DISCIPLINARY PROCESS

IVGID UTILITY DEPARTMENT

Peer Counseling and Disciplinary Process

Utility employees are expected to live by the principles and values contained in our Missions Statement and Standards. These principles and values are important to us and they communicate clear expectations for employee behavior on the job. Accepting responsibility and accountability, being a team player, participating to our fullest, treating others in a respectful way, and always being safety and quality conscious are key elements that support our work system and define who we are.

In our Department, much of the responsibility for providing feedback on people's job performance and behavior shifts to the team members themselves. When working as part of a team, people need to know how well they are doing and whether their actions and behavior are helping or hindering the team in accomplishing its goals. Positive feedback is always the best kind, but feedback for improvement is also necessary. Team members should see each other as a source of support, assistance, and encouragement. Feeling appreciated and respected by one's peers helps to build trust and maintain positive working relationships in the group.

There may be instances where a team member's behavior is viewed by others on the team as unhelpful or in some way inconsistent with our guiding principles and values. Should this occur, team members have a responsibility to bring this to the individual's attention. It may be that the person is unaware of the behavior and the effect it is having on the group. If the person is aware of it, he or she may see no reason to change, if it appears that the behavior is acceptable to others. It could also be that the behavior is the result of a misunderstanding or a performance problem of some kind. If so, training or other kinds of assistance can be provided to help the individual improve. If a misunderstanding or performance related problem is present, then the individual has a responsibility to examine his or her behavior carefully and consider how it is affecting the rest of the team. Each team member will be held accountable for his/her actions.

Three process steps are available to year round and multi-seasonal year round employees. Each is intended to help a fellow team member recognize that a concern exists among the members about the person's behavior and that those behaviors need improvement. Consistent with our teamwork philosophy in the Utility Department, our team has a responsibility to view a problem one team member is having as a problem for the entire team and be prepared to counsel and assist the person as needed.

I. Informal Discussion with Another Team Member

- In a private conversation, one or more team members brings a concern he or she has about another team member's actions or behavior to this person's attention. This should always be done in a caring, empathetic and helpful way by all involved.
- It may be that the individual is unaware of the undesirable behavior and the effect it is having on others. If so, this or any other misunderstanding can be quickly cleared up.
- The outcome of this discussion should be a better understanding by the individual of the effect of his or her behavior and what is expected and why.
- Any assistance the team can offer that may help the individual to improve should be made available. Individuals should make notes in a personal diary for future reference.
- The outcome of the discussion should be a commitment by the individual to improve the undesirable behavior. If the behavior continues, the individual should understand that further action will be necessary and can be expected.

II. Formal Discussion Involving the Team and Individual's Supervisor

- If an individual's behavior does not improve, the matter needs to be brought up to the attention of the individual's supervisor. The supervisor will determine if the intent of Step I has been satisfied and if so he will organize a team meeting.
- In the team meeting, the team will discuss the situation and together with the individual, establish agreed-upon expectations for correcting the problem. A record of the meeting will be made on a progressive disciplinary form and signed by those in attendance.
- It is the responsibility of the team to offer the individual help in improving his or her behavior. A performance management plan will be developed to measure any progress. The outcome of the discussion should be a commitment by the individual to improve the undesirable behavior. If the behavior continues, the individual should understand that further action will be necessary and can be expected.
- The performance management plan will be developed and administered by the team and reviewed by the Utility Superintendent.
- Seasonal employee performance issues will be handled at the team level including the individual's supervisor and the Utilities Superintendent.

III. Formal Performance Review

- Continued poor performance will result in a meeting with the Peer Counseling and Disciplinary Committee.
- The committee will consist of 3 operators and the Utilities Superintendent. One operator should be from a different division within Utilities, i.e.: Plant or Pipeline. The individual's supervisor should be present at this meeting as well.
- The committee will review previous actions and performance management plans along with any current issues. Recommendations for further improvement plans or disciplinary actions will be developed. A formal record of the meeting will be made on a progressive disciplinary form with all those in attendance signing.
- A written recommendation of the committee will be prepared by the Utilities Superintendent and reviewed with the Utilities Director.

It is important in our Department that members be able to share their perceptions of each other's behavior when expectations are not being met. Otherwise, problems could develop within the group that harm morale and performance. Our peer counseling and disciplinary process only works effectively when team members genuinely care about each other and have invested the time and effort in developing truly open relationships.

If an individual team member does not agree with a committee recommendation, that person may address their concerns with the entire committee as a whole. Talking with individuals on the committee, other than the Utilities Superintendent, out of a committee environment about issues being addressed by the committee shall be avoided.

It also must be understood that IVGID management reserves the right to take appropriate action in cases of severe violation of IVGID policies or state, federal or local laws. Bargaining unit employees have the right to Union representation at any point in this process and all year round & multi-seasonal year round employees shall have access to the grievance procedures outlined in IVGID's personnel policies.
